

Zoltan Kálo

Professor of Health Economics and Head of the Institute of Economics at Eötvös Loránd University (ELTE) in Budapest. He is the director of an international postgraduate program in Health Policy, Planning and Financing. Dr. Kálo is also the founder and leader of Syreon Research Institute, an international research corporation specializing in health policy, health economic modeling and technology assessment.

1

Fabio Aristizábal

Professor of pharmacy department at National University of Colombia, Member of the Specialized Chamber of Drugs and Biotechnology Products of Invima “Sala especializada de medicamentos y productos biotecnológicos de Invima”, as representative of the Ministry of Health of Colombia.

2