Chapter's accomplishments in 2017 with regard to policy-related activities.	The chapter has always been working hard to provide evidence and suggestion in essential drug policy , the third party payment model of health insurance , in order to help forward the establishment of national essential drug system, by conducting pharmaceutical evaluation research. We have been contributing our great efforts in the project of Innovation of Disease Management System in Rural China which is an important part of the Health XI Project since 2011. The disease management innovative solutions in rural China we proposed would contribute to the establishment of health insurance system for rural residents, improvement of health service system, and exploration of health system reform in rural areas of different development levels. We devoted major efforts to develop and implement drug formularies and standard treatment guidelines in rural area in China this year. The formularies and guidelines have been compiled and first put into use in Anhui province, and then launched pilot projects in Shaanxi, Chongqing, etc.. We have been contributing our great efforts in deploying the practice nationally. This project would play a significant role in helping health sectors in rural area improve health service quality, provide critical public health service, control health expenditure.
